

BRANDON MAIL.

Thursday, June 15, 1893.

Among the prominent events of the World's Fair for so far, may be mentioned the first of a series of meetings to be held during the time the Exposition is to be open, by the "Woman's World Congress." The meeting took place in the Memorial Art Institute, on Michigan avenue. There were distinguished and representative women from one hundred and ten associations coming from every part of the civilized world. The congress is not only international in its composition, but unique in the history of civilization. For the first time in the history of the world, it may be said, representative women representing every phase of life, and occupation open to women in the present age, have met to confer on matters which concern women of every clime. The papers read and upon which lively discussions followed, varied from "the civil and social evolution of woman" down to the "art of bread making" and took in "education," "women in politics," "civil law, science, industrial economies, dress reform, the Order of the Eastern Star, Women's Christian association, Klings Daughters, Papers on the position of woman in various parts of the world, Social Purity, Christian Temperance, Woman's American Liberty, Woman as a Religious Teacher, The Intellectual Progress of the Colored Woman, Woman in the Pulpit, Women on the Stage, Hebrew women (by a Jewess), Woman's Suffrage, Women's clubs, literary women, applied arts, woman as a social leader. Reports were presented of work done by Roman Catholic women of the needlework guild, Christian Endeavor, work of Unitarian, Baptist, Methodist women, relief societies, Mutual Improvement Women's trade unions, co-operative housekeeping and finally the benefit of organization among women in the promotion of industry, philanthropy, moral reform, education, religion, literary culture and political liberty. The average attendance each day was about 8,000 women, with a sprinkling of men who of course did not count. In addition to the good that must accrue from the discussion and the dissemination of literature on the above subjects, all of which are of such vast interest and importance to humanity in general, but to women in particular, great benefit must result, productive of much good. From the formation of those national councils in the different countries represented by the delegates. If no other work than this was transacted at the congress, it was worth the effort to get so many distinguished women together for that purpose, and it may be taken as a sign of the future usefulness of those international councils which are from henceforth an established fact. The idea of these national councils is simply to form a federation of all organizations of women in each country, each, of course, keeping its own distinctive features and identity, but, by joining a national council, which in turn is incorporated in our international council, to be in touch with the womanhood of the whole world—a consummation devoutly to be wished for.

A very peculiar, interesting and ingenious device was set up for the defendant before the magistrates in London, Eng., a few days ago, in a case in which an hotel-keeper was summoned for a breach of the liquor licensing laws, for selling liquors after the hour fixed for closing bars, rooms, which would suggest that humanity is being cheated or is cheating "Old Father Time" out of many solid hours of his existence. The point in question is whether the solar or standard time should be the mode of calculation, and which should govern the time of closing liquor stores. The former time is, as is well known twenty minutes slower than the latter and it was strongly urged for the defence that this time should be used in reckoning the hours that apply to closing public houses, as it is the only true criterion we have to go by in such calculations; and this reasoning was backed by a formidable array of authorities bearing on the point. The activity and ingenuity of the defence took the court by surprise, and as a result judgment was reserved to give time to consider the validity of the argument. If the decision is in favor of the contention for the defence, the defendant will get of Scott free, but if on the contrary, he will have to pay the full penalty that the law inflicts for such infractions.

He gazing at her jewelled ears during a temporary lull in the conversation, "Why? Did you never have your ears bored?"

"What smoking, Fred? Thought your doctor told you it would kill you?"

"So he did and I quit. But at the end of a week I wanted to die, so I'm smoking again."

"He—would it make you very sad if I should tell you I was going to marry someone else?" She who doesn't show the desired anxiety about accepting him—I would be, Jack, if the girl were a very near and dear friend of mine."

"I think the Pilgrim mothers had a harder time than the Pilgrim fathers," said Hickson.

"Why?" queried Dickson.

"Why, they not only had to endure the same privations as the Pilgrim fathers, but they had to get along with the Pilgrim fathers as well."—Life.

Period of Infection in Mumps.

The question as to the transmissibility of the infectious diseases and the exact stage of the disease at which infection is most likely to occur, has been satisfactorily settled regarding most of the exanthemata. In mumps, however, the case is different, some authorities maintaining that the disease may be transmitted throughout the whole of its course, while others are of opinion that this is only the case at the commencement of the attack. Dr. Rendu, in a paper read before the Societe Medicale des Hopitaux, related two cases which are valuable as throwing light upon this point. A young lady visited her mother on January 31, who complained of slight malaise; on the following day, however, she developed mumps. On January 24, her daughter, who had seen her on the second day, and since, was likewise attacked. In the interval she had seen no person who was suffering from the disease. Dr. Rendu argued, therefore, that a case may be infectious even before the characteristic parotid swelling has made its appearance. A second case was very similar to the first, and ten years old was attacked after being in company with a friend who, although then showing no signs of the disease, was found a few days afterwards to be suffering from it. Mumps is, therefore, evidently infectious at the termination of the period of incubation. Dr. Rendu is of opinion that indirect conveyance by means of the breath—Lancet.

Pyrites From Africa.

Two Akka girls, who were rescued from Arab capturers by Dr. Stuhlmann and his companions, have been brought to Europe and will remain in Germany for a few months. It is reported that they will be taken back to Africa, where they will be placed in some mission house, or otherwise provided for. They are supposed to be between ten and twenty years of age. A correspondent of the London Daily News, who saw them at Naples, says they are well proportioned, good looking, and very intelligent. They are said to be of the "infantile, wild and shy, but without timidity." One of them was always laughing, leading, and smiling, and from beneath frowning brows, while the other often laughed joyously, was pleased with bead bracelets and other trinkets given to her, and expressed by a queer sniff of her fat nose her appreciation of some choicest bonbons. After making "a capital dinner on rice and meat," they presently went to bed, and the next morning they were found in a pretty garden, where they gradually grew more confident, and finally allowed themselves to be photographed arm in arm with the little son of a German hostess. The appetitive one shook with laughter, and seemed to guess that a process was going on flattery to her vanity, while the other, more reserved, and suspicious. They showed neither wonder nor admiration of the people and things around them in the artistically furnished and tastefully decorated garden. Their eyes though large and lustrous, have less expression than the eyes of a monkey. These interesting representatives of the pygmy races of the world are to be presented to various scientific societies in Berlin.

A Remarkable Dust Explosion.

Not long since in the city of Litchfield, Ill., one of the most remarkable dust explosions on record occurred in the "Planet" or Kehlor flour mills. Before the explosion a fire broke out in one of the elevators, and the wind was such that it spread an alarm before the fire had reached the mills. Here it was beyond control. The fire companies on reaching the scene, saw their apparatus connected by this time the flames had reached the part of the mill where there presumably was an accumulation of dust, and the explosion occurred. The great mill said to have been the largest flour mill in the world, was blown to pieces as if by dynamite. Bricks, timbers, and pieces of machinery were blown in all directions. The spectators of the fire were thrown to the ground by the shock, and people a mile distant were prostrated. Towns sixty miles away were alarmed, and the wind carried the effects of the explosion. At DeCATUR, fifty miles away, the atmospheric concussion was felt. In the town no houses were damaged, but near the scene had every window blown out. Some houses two miles distant were entirely destroyed. The loss of the proprietors of having the flour fixed for selling flour rooms, which would suggest that humanity is being cheated or is cheating "Old Father Time" out of many solid hours of his existence. The point in question is whether the solar or standard time should be the mode of calculation, and which should govern the time of closing liquor stores. When Sir Humphry Davy invented the safety lamp which bears his name it was supposed that mine explosions were due to inflammable gas, generally, or mostly marsh gas. But recently it has been found that carbon dust plays a most important role in mine explosions, and the miner's "fire damp" may be interpreted as including coal dust as well as inflammable gas. The recent development of steam mining has brought dust explosions more into prominence. In mine explosions there is absolutely no gas. The flour dust is so fine that it can be carried and suspended in air, it produces an explosive mixture. The loss of the mills, which had a capacity of two thousand barrels of flour per day, is estimated about one million of dollars.

Vinegar From Rags and Paper.

Eternal vigilance seems to be the only price at which the welfare of the vinegar trade can be preserved. Spurious vinegars, purporting to be the genuine article, are constantly finding their way into the markets and competing with sinner pure products. It has been found that carbon dust plays a most important role in mine explosions, and the miner's "fire damp" may be interpreted as including coal dust as well as inflammable gas. The recent development of steam mining has brought dust explosions more into prominence. In mine explosions there is absolutely no gas. theoretical only though it may seem may not be utilized and put into practical shape by some shrewd commercial man. The fact of the matter is, and branding the older-vinegar maker has enough to contend with now, but when it comes to pitting his product against a decoction of old then the odds are against him. It is too much. If that should ever come, the rag bag will be the rival of the apple tree, and the junk shop will be the rival of the orchard. Dreadful thought! Imagine, if it be possible, the process of putting up pickles in acidified second-hand rags!—American Cider-maker.

Winnipeg is Prospering.

From the half-yearly building report of Messrs. Gordon & Suckling, the well-known real estate agents in Winnipeg, can be gleaned some interesting information of building done in the city during the past six months. The class of buildings erected, generally speaking, are superior to that of any previous year in our history. Quite a number of large business blocks are in course of construction at present; and there are not a few residences costing from $10,000 to $15,000. At least of the two hundred houses upon which men are working at the present time, and it is estimated that they will be fully another 175 built before fall.

The building and improvements for this year up to June 1st amount to a large figure, it being in the neighborhood of $1,000,000, and this year the total expenditure in this particular line from the present outlook promises to fully reach $1,800,000, and will in all probability exceed the expenditure of $2,000,000. Real estate is steadily advancing and in some favorable localities has risen from twenty to twenty five per cent. Taken as a whole, land values in the city have advanced about 13 per cent.

Quite a number of new houses are being made by outsiders and considerable foreign capital is finding its way for investment in Winnipeg properties. The prospects for a continued substantial improvement in the city, is more hopeful and Winnipeggers may well feel proud of the advancement the city is making.

Canada Will Have the Largest Milling Concern in the World.

F. W. Thompson, manager of the Ogilvie Milling Co., Winnipeg, on being interviewed recently, stated that the extensive improvements in the Winnipeg mill were approaching completion, with the exception of a few minor details which were being pushed on as rapidly as possible. He thinks they will be able to receive visitors at the mill in about two or three weeks. The changes and improvements of the mill will certainly reflect credit upon the city of Winnipeg. The mill has been put in such a condition as to make it one of the finest on the continent of America, the capacity having been increased to 1,800 barrels per day.

Mr. Thompson also mentioned that improvements have been carried out in nearly all the company's eastern mills, resulting in bringing up their aggregate capacity to 8,200 barrels per day, thus representing one of the largest milling concerns in the world.

The company have registered under the copyright law, special red, white and blue brands of twine which are being manufactured for their use, so that hereafter the standard brands of flour turned out by this company will be in bags, sewn with these colored twines. Experiments are in progress for the testing of their flour at the mill before being shipped.

The Hon. Robt. Watson Returns Home From Ottawa.

Hon. Robt. Watson has returned from his visit to Ottawa, where he was for the purpose of interviewing ministers of the Dominion Cabinet in relation to certain matters connected with our local affairs, some of which for the present are not to be made public. Mr. Watson stated that his mission was particularly in reference to obtaining a portion of the old driving park on Broadway for a Normal school site. In this he expects to be successful, and in fact his whole interview with Mr. Daly and other cabinet officers was very satisfactory.

Speaking of the Manitoba Government exhibit at the World's Fair, he said a record was kept of the number of visitors to the Manitoba exhibit, and that for one day alone, it totalled up 4,000. Ontario has a very fine display inside, he said, particularly in minerals. The exhibits in the Manitoba building are not all placed as yet, but will be in a few days.

Mr. Watson expects return to Ottawa the latter end of the month to attend the Liberal convention.

The Difference Between Poverty and Debt.

Poverty is a rather dreary thing, but may and sometimes with advantage, be gulped down. Thence the drinker makes wry faces, there may, after all, be whole some goodness in the cup. But debt, however courteously it be offered, is the cup of a siren, and the wine, spiced and delicious though it may be, is deadly. The man out of debt, though with a crack in his shoe leather, and a hole in his hat, is still at liberty, free as the singing lark above him; but the debtor, though clothed in the utmost bravery, who he but holiday—slave, to be reclaimed at an instant by his owner, the creditor? If poor, set wine in the running spring; think a threadbare coat the "only wear," and acknowledge a white-washed garnet the fit roof housing place for a gentleman; do this and flee debt. So shall thy heart be at peace, and the sheriff be confounded.

The Age of the Penny in the Slot Machine.

The modern first-inventor of the present popular penny-in-the-slot machine was Mr. Percy Everett, who died recently at the Milwaukee Hotel, New York. The number of patents for this class of machine has, in recent years, been so all manner of purposes enormous. In England alone thousands of patents have been taken out in connection with slot machines. The automatic principle is a very old one. In the old Egyptian temples devices of this kind were employed for automatically dispensing the purifying water. A small coin or drachme dropped into a slot in a vase set a simple piece of mechanism, like a well-sweep, in motion; a valve was opened for an instant, and a portion of the water permitted to escape. This apparatus was described by Heron of Alexandria, who lived 200 years before the Christian Era.

Kind Party—What are you crying that way for, little boy? Little Boy—Cause it's the only way I know how to cry.

AN IMPORTANT STATEMENT.

Out of 5,119 Cattle Shipped to Great Britain Only One Was Suspicious.

The following special cablegram was recently published by the Globe: In discussing the cattle embargo in the house of commons last night, President Gardner, of the board of agriculture, replying to Mr. Chaplin, made an important statement respecting the embargo on Canadian cattle. He said that so far the special examination of the animals' lungs had proved satisfactory, for out of ten carcasses comprising 5,119 head of cattle shipped, only one animal, arriving on the steamship Lake Winnipeg, gave cause for suspicion. Regarding this he awaited further information from the board of agricultural advisers. Mr. Chaplin, who appeared surprised at the clean bill of health reported, asked whether he was to understand that only one case was suspected. Mr. Gardner replied explicitly, "Only one."

The Wealth of St. Sulpice's Seminary.

The Seminary of St. Sulpice is probably a wealthier corporation than even most people imagine says the Montreal Star. A high authority estimates its wealth at not less than between $400,000 and $500,000. Besides owning a vast amount of real estate in and around Montreal which is constantly increasing in value, it has locked in its ponderous safe millions of bonds of nearly every town and village in the province, including St. Jerome, Three Rivers, Sorel, Terrebonne, Hull, St. John's and Belleville, Ontario. It has also large amounts of stock in most of the cotton companies and banks; Street Railway company, Richelieu company, in fact in nearly every incorporated company established in the province. It has also a large amount of money invested in various companies and towns in Ontario and the Northwest. The seminary has an established rule never to sell any security which brings it in 6 per cent. It is buying stocks and bonds all the time. One of the members of its board, who does little else but look after their investments, is quite a familiar figure around St. Francois Xavier street, and takes as much interest in the quotations as the brokers themselves.

Trade With Australia.

Communication has been opened up between the department of trade and commerce at Ottawa and the government of Australia on the subject of assistance to a new line of steamships to ply between Canada and the Australian colonies. The arrangement under which service has been started is purely a tentative one, and no doubt when the manager of the line, Huddart, answers from the Antipodes the whole matter will become over. Among subjects which will be then considered is an offer made three years ago by Fiji islands of a subsidy to any Canadian-Australian line of steamers calling there.

A Conundrum for Doctors.

A strange case is that of Miss Mary McCann, of Orange, N. I., who has now lain in a comatose condition at the Memorial Hospital for twenty-five days continues to attract much attention. On April 13th she was thrown from a South Orange horse car and since then has not spoken nor had a moment of consciousness. Recently she has shown signs of approaching consciousness, but she now lies upon her cot with her eyes open moaning and moving her hands in an aimless, nervous manner. Her trouble is a concussion of the brain, caused by the shock. The extraordinary features are only in the fact that so long a time elapsed before a return to consciousness. Since her accident Miss McCann has been examined by no less than seventy-five physicians and has undergone the most critical and detailed examinations. The doctors, so far, are unable to diagnose the mystery surrounding her case.

How the Old Woman Outwitted the Exciseman.

An old woman in Orkney was noted for selling whiskey on the sly. Her house was a few miles from the town, and Excise officers had tried in vain to have her convicted. So many attempts had failed that they had given up the task as impossible. A Scottish agent, however, contrived to place, who said, on being told about her, that he would soon secure her conviction.

Early one morning he left town and arrived at the old woman's house by 7 o'clock. Walking in, he saw no one, but, noticing a bell on the table, he rang it.

The old woman appeared.

He asked for a glass of milk, which was set down before him. After a little he rang again and the old woman appeared.

"Ay, sir," said she, "we have some in the bottle," setting it down before him. He thanked her and laid down a sovereign, which she took and walked out. After helping himself he rang again and asked for his change.

"Clap, sir," said the old woman. "There's nae change. We have nae license. Fat wegie we gie in presents; fat wegie we take in presents. So good day, sir!" The exciseman left the house a poorer but a wiser man.

So Homely Looking and Yet so Good.

A photographer tells a story of a young man who came into his studio one day and asked nervously if he might have a little conversation with him. The visitor was painfully ugly, and after some awkward blushing and indefinite illusions, he asked the artist if he supposed he had among his samples a picture of any young man who looked like him, but was better looking.

"What do you mean, sir?" asked the photographer.

"Well," he replied, making a clean breast of it, "I am just engaged to be married. The young lady lives in the country. She is a very nice girl, and she says she thinks I am so good she doesn't mind my being homely, but she does want a good-looking picture to take home with her to show the other girls."

The most fearful tragedy in the Mississippi country occurred seven miles from this point. Recently Omri Ely, his wife and their daughter, Emma, aged 29, were found murdered in their farm house at Beach Ridge, three miles from Clarenceville. After the murder had been committed the assassins set fire to the dwelling, and neighbors who were attracted to the spot by the flames, found the three dead bodies, which were at once removed.

Forwan's hardware store and row of houses in Kennington road, London, Eng., adjacent to the stores, were destroyed a few days ago by fire. The loss and damage is estimated at $50,000.

Great distress and suffering exists among the people of Hope, Ark., and the terrible epidemic of May 30 has left 5,000 people homeless and in destitute circumstances. The storm extended over a territory of seventy-five to ninety miles in length, and from fifteen to twenty in breadth; in many sections destroying houses, fences, and crippling many people. As far as known, three people were killed and twenty injured.

BRANDON MAIL.

THURSDAY, JUNE 15, 1893.

THE CHICAGO PRINTING.

The Greenway Government professes to be a party of economy and so far as the professions go they may be all right, but there the matter ends. Not satisfied with giving the Brandon Sun about $6,000 for "services rendered" last year they are giving it an extensive pull at the under this year in connection with the Greenway-Gregg show at Chicago. They have conceived the brilliant idea they want some printing done to advertise the show, as all circus men do, and they gave the work to brother White, of the Sun. He in turn, instead of doing the work at home, and assisting in the keeping of "Canada for Canadians," gets the work done in an office in Chicago and pockets a nice round sum as overseer. Now, whether it is work was required at all, is an open and at least debatable question; but if required, why it was not let out right to the Chicago printer, as what Brother White is paying for it, and save the profits paid to the farmer is something that will stand probing when the public accounts committee next meet. When they meet there will be placed before them, as one item of the $86,000 appropriation the unassuming account

GREENWAY & Co.

To the Brandon Sun, Dr.
To printing for the Chicago exhibit

The blank after "S" will of course be filled in. If the Pub. Accounts Committee are an accommodating body of men, there will be no questions asked and there the matter will end. If, however, they are a watchful body of men, they will ask what work was done for this sum, and if they proceed further and investigate, as constitutional means are open to enable them to do, they will learn the Sun man put several hundred and perhaps thousands of dollars in his pockets for simply nothing at all. Ask the government why they did not let the work in Chicago at once, and they will tell you they do not believe in giving Manitoba cash to American printers, but they let the Sun man do it and pay him a nice premium for doing it besides.

It is unnecessary here to say, the Sun find no fault with paying the $45,000 to Ryan and Hancy; it finds no fault with any of the jobbery of the government for the simple reason it is paid plenty of money for keeping its eyes and mouth shut and it keeps both closed to the doings of the government accordingly.

The Brandon Sun highly approves of all of Mr. Greenway's expenditures of provincial funds, including the erection of the hotel at the World's Fair. Now, what else in the name of common sense could the public expect? There is Mr. Stuart, the God-father of the Sun commissioner, drawing a very large salary, and there is Mr. White, reputed editor of the Sun spending two-thirds of his time in some printing business, drawing a large sum out of the pockets of the prosperous Manitoba farmers. Now, who would expect the Sun to be anything but loud in its approval of all the expenditure of Greenway & Co. make in that connection. No! to our mind the Sun will have to be a little more discreet, before the public can expect its approval of the Chicago Fair's expenditures, as so much unadulterated gospel.

Chas. S. Fee, of the N. P. R. has issued and circulated a World's Fair folder, which for information concerning the great North-west and artistic finish, it would be very hard to equal. In addition to explaining their own R. R. system, the folder has cuts of the finest scenery on the American continent and a fund of information concerning our whole west country that should be of great interest to the anxious enquirer after truth.

FOOTBALL.

The return match, played on Tuesday evening on the 6th street grounds between the Wesley College, Alumni and Brandon Rovers teams was witnessed by a large concourse of people. The game commenced at 7:30 and throughout was a truly interesting game. The Wesley College, for the Winnipeg, was probably the best player on the field. His play being marked by all the "red spots" were more than enough. The game played a splendid game for Brandon at last. A half time the score stood: Brandon 1, Wesley 0. Throughout the whole game the Brandonites proved themselves to be good men, when near the goal. The Wesley College men lacked play. The game resulted as follows: Wesley College 1, Brandon Rovers 2.

For Sale--The Brookside Farm

THIS FARM IS CLOSE TO CLINTON and about three miles north of Chatter and North East of Brandon. This is one of the best grain and stock farms in the Province. There are 1480 acres of land, 1200 of which are in crop and the balance in fallow. There are a new frame house and granary, and 12 warm stables for thirty head of stock, all the necessary farm implements, and 160 acres of good pasture, well shaded with trees, and a running stream of good water through the centre, all well fenced. With the farm are 17 head of good horses and colts, with 12 head of cattle, and all free of encumbrance. The lot will be sold together or the stock separate to suit purchasers. This is a chance in a life time for a man of liberal means to make money. The proprietor has made a decided success of it, and is only selling because of his changing his business. At the same time he offers for sale or rent the Lambton House property on 8th St. near Rosser. The house is a first-class boarding house being centrally situated. Apply to the proprietor.

Those interested in a band held a meeting on Monday evening last to decide upon the resurrection of a band. The idea now is to make it a citizens' band, and have a band committee of citizens to run it. That is the most effective way because if it was run this year like it was last year people would not be surprised to have it "burst up" again. The pugnacious element as in other associations was very much developed in our late band but now the citizens have a hand in it, we may expect to have a good head for all our pleasures.

At the Methodist church, on Tuesday evening, the large congregation had a second banquet. Fancies of fancy like vivid lightning, darted through the house and against spectators' applause. Wesley College has a right to feel proud of her sons.
